PREFACE.

UNLIKE several of its predecessors the year 1906 was quite free from political disturbances, and, consequently, monetary affairs were entirely governed by commercial considerations, but, nevertheless, the year was in some respects quite remarkable. Almost throughout the period, with the great industrial expansion abroad, and the abnormally high prices ruling for some commodities, a drain of gold was experienced at this centre, and at no time did the Bank of England standard for discounts fall below 3½ per cent., while for a lengthy period it was 6, and grave fears were entertained of a still higher figure. Fortunately, anxiety on this score proved groundless, some restraint having been placed in the latter part of the year on United States gold requirements, while exports of the metal to South America were appreciably less than was feared at one time, although, on the other hand, little assistance in this respect was derived from the Continent. The average Bank rate for the year was 4·269 per cent., and there are probably few who realise how exceedingly onerous a charge of that amount is. Taking the last forty years down to the end of 1906 the average Bank rate ruling in this country was only 3·207 per cent., and in only two out of the forty years named was the average higher than in 1906 —that is in 1890, a year of great financial difficulty here, when it was 4·52 per cent.; and in 1873, when great disturbance was occasioned to the Western money markets by the payment by France of the war indemnity to Germany, and also by a financial crisis in the United States, the mean Bank rate in that year having been 4·288.

With such high figures as these it is almost needless to add that 1906 proved an exceptionally favourable year from a banker's standpoint. Money on which no interest had to be paid was lendable on very favourable terms, and, taking on the one hand the average deposit rate paid by the banks, and on the other the average returns from three months' bills and day-to-day loans, there was a margin of 1 per cent., as against a disparity in 1905 of only 0·73 per cent., and in 1904 of 0·57 per cent. As regards the discount market the average paid for money (taking deposits and day-to-day loans) left a margin over the average of three months' bills of 0·87 per cent., as against 0·71 per cent. in 1905, but the actual results were nothing like so favourable as these figures would imply, as for lengthy periods the discount market was indebted to the Bank of England, where much heavier terms had to be paid for loan accommodation, and, moreover, with the high rates prevalent, the holding of gilt-edged securities was almost profitless. Although making larger profits than in 1905, the dividends paid by the London Banks were almost identical in the two years. The figures of the Continental banks for 1906, especially those of German institutions, disclosed a most remarkable expansion, and higher dividend returns were the rule.

Comparatively few amalgamations have taken place since the ast issue of this work. Williams-Deacon's Bank has absorbed the Sheffield and Rotherham Banking Company; the Birmingham District and Counties Bank has taken over the Bradford Old Bank and the Wakefield and Barnsley Banking Company, and has altered its name into the more comprehensive one of the United Counties Bank; the Union Bank of Manchester has absorbed Messrs. Downes & Co.; and as from July 1 next the Capital and Counties is taking over the business of Messrs. Eyton, Burton, Lloyd & Co. Looking back over the last ten years there has been a most remarkable diminution in the number of Banking Companies and Firms operating in the United Kingdom. Only three what may be termed London Companies have ceased to have a separate existence, and the number of London banking firms has also, through amalgamation, diminished by only three, but in the Provinces there were in 1897 78 companies, while now there are only 48, and as against 75 Provincial banking firms in 1897 there are now only 26.

Other events of 1906 include the formation of the Anglo-Japanese Bank, Limited, the liquidation of the old Merchant Banking Company, and the opening of offices in this capital by the Société Belge de Crédit Industriel et Commercial et de Depots, the Transvaalsche Bank en Handelsvereeniging, and the United States Express Company.

The greatly improved state of commercial affairs in the Australian Commonwealth is reflected in the better dividends paid by the banks operating in that part of the Empire, and with the commercial development in Argentina and other parts of South America the British banks working in that part of the world have found it necessary to appreciably increase their capital issues.

THOMAS SKINNER.

WHAT IS "A BANK"?

THE term "Bank" is usually accepted as meaning an institution (a company or firm) receiving money on deposit to be accounted for on demand by means of cheques.

Under Act 7 and 8 Victoria, cap. 32 (section 21) every banking firm or company in England and Wales must, within fifteen days from January 1 in each year, make a return to the Inland Revenue Office, Somerset House, of the name, residence, and occupation of every member of such banking firm or company, and the title of the same, with the name of every place where business is carried on. By Act 45 and 46 Victoria, cap. 72 (section 11), however, banking companies making returns under the Companies Acts, by appending to such returns the several places where they carry on business, are now exempt from making any other return, as above. On registration of the annual return of a company, including in the case of a banking company a list of the names of places where business is carried on, the only fee payable is five shillings. No fees are payable on making returns under the Act 7 and 8 Victoria (cap. 32). Bank licences, liable to a stamp duty of £30, must be taken out annually by all banks which have the right of issuing their own bank notes and also by banks "issuing beyond three miles of London," certain unstamped notes and bills, in respect of which unstamped notes, &c., a composition for stamp duty is payable. A separate licence is required for every town at which the issue takes place subject to the provision contained in Act 7 and 8 Victoria, cap. 32 (section 22), to the effect that no banker who, on May 6, 1844, had four licences then in force for issuing notes at more than four places (four licences having up to then been the maximum required irrespective of the number of towns at which the issue was taking place) need take out more than four licences in respect of branches in operation prior to the passing of that Act—that is to say, a bank with one hundred branches open at the passing of the Act of 1844 only requires four licences in respect of such branches, but one additional licence in respect of every branch since opened at which the issue of notes, &c., takes place.

The returns made to the Inland Revenue Office by Foreign and Colonial banks transacting business in London, do not include a list of their shareholders. The returns made by banking companies (who are not working under the Companies Acts) and firms, carrying on business in London, are published in the London Gazette. Such companies and firms are described in this work as registered at the Inland Revenue Office as London bankers. The particulars of other English and Welsh banks making returns to the Inland Revenue Office are published in newspapers circulating in the district of each bank.

In Scotland there are no private banks, and those working under the Joint Stock Companies Acts have only to make a return (to the Companies' Registration Office, Edinburgh) of the places where they carry on business, appended to the annual list of shareholders; but the Bank of Scotland, the Royal Bank of Scotland, and the British Linen Company, which are incorporated by Act of Parliament or by royal charter, have to make no return whatever except to the Inland Revenue Office, Somerset House, as bankers carrying on business in London.

Banking companies and firms carrying on business in Ireland are subject to the same conditions as English and Welsh concerns, except that, as regards those not working under the Joint Stock Companies' Acts, returns have to be made to the Inland Revenue Office, Dublin, and these returns are published in the Dublin Gazette.

A bank (whether a company or a firm) which has made the necessary returns, as above, can claim the right of payment of a crossed cheque over the counter (a right, however, which the London clearing banks have as amongst themselves agreed to forego), whether such cheque is held by the bank on its own account or for account of a client, and whether drawn by the bank to whom it is presented, or by a customer of such bank.

SHAREHOLDERS' LIABILITY FOR NOTES.

Banking Companies registered as limited under the English Joint Stock Companies Acts are subject, as regards the issue of notes, to Clause 6 of the Act of 1879, which is as follows:—"A Bank of issue registered as a limited Company, either before or after the passing of this Act, shall not be entitled to limited liability in respect of its notes, and the members thereof shall continue liable in respect of its notes in the same manner as if it had been registered as an unlimited Company; but in case the general assets of the Company are, in the event of the Company being wound up, insufficient to satisfy the claims of both the noteholders and the general creditors, then the members, after satisfying the remaining demands of the noteholders, shall be liable to contribute towards payment of the debts of the general creditors a sum equal to the amount received by the noteholders out of the general assets of the Company."

Companies registered under the Victorian Companies statute of 1864 are subject, as regards the issue of notes, to the subjoined clause, which is No. 162, as confirmed by the Victorian Companies Act of 1890:—"No Banking Company that issues notes in Victoria, unless the contrary be provided by Act of Parliament establishing or regulating the same, shall be entitled to limited liability in respect of such issue, but shall continue subject to unlimited liability in respect thereof; and if necessary the assets shall be marshalled for the benefit of the general creditors; and the members shall be liable for the whole amount of the issue in addition to the sum for which they would be liable as members of a limited Company."

Banks registered in New South Wales and Queensland under the Companies Acts of 1874 and 1863 respectively are subject, as regards the issue of notes, to the subjoined clause, No. 226 in the New South Wales Act, and No. 176 in the Queensland Act:—"No Banking Company claiming to issue notes shall be entitled to limited liability in respect of such issue, but shall continue subject to unlimited liability in respect thereof; and if necessary the assets shall be marshalled for the benefit of the general creditors, and the members shall be liable for the whole amount of the issue in addition to the sum for which they may be liable as members of a limited Company."

By the Ordinance of the Hong Kong Legislative Council incorporating the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation each shareholder of that institution is made liable, in the event of liquidation, for an amount equivalent to the share capital subscribed by him, in addition to a proportion of the note issue. The Charter of 1859 incorporating the Natal Bank, Limited, contains similar conditions in regard to the shareholders of that institution.

In Canada notes rank first on assets, then comes any claim by the Dominion Government, and then any claim by any Provincial Government. Further, the notes are secured by "The Bank Circulation Redemption Fund," which is composed of a deposit by each bank with the Government of cash to the amount of 5 per cent. of the average notes in circulation. The Government pays 3 per cent. interest on these deposits. The liability of shareholders is limited to an amount equal to the par value of the shares in addition to any amount not paid up.

The following Banks claim limited liability as regards notes—that is to say, they hold that in the event of liquidation the noteholders would rank as general creditors on the assets: Companies incorporated by Charter or Act of Parliament, either of Great Britain or the Australasian Colonies; the Imperial Ottoman Bank, established under firman from the Turkish Government; the National Bank of Egypt, established by decree of the Khedive; and the Yokohama Specie Bank, established under Japanese laws. In some banks the notes form a first charge on the assets, but this is not general.

From the Report adopted April 30, 1907.—The directors submit to the shareholders of the bank, the balance sheet and profit and loss account made up to the 31st December, 1906, showing a deficit of 2,725*l.* 9*s.* 9*d.*, which is carried forward. The period covered by these accounts is from the formation and establishment of the bank in May last, or a little over seven months. The office in London was opened in June in temporary premises, but, owing to the time occupied in completing the staff and in obtaining from the Japanese Government the necessary license to carry on business in Japan, it was not until early in December that it was possible to open the office in Yokohama, so that prior to the date of the report the bank had only been open in Japan for about four weeks. The office in Yokohama has been organised under the direct supervision of Mr. J. W. Ross Taylor, the bank's general manager in Japan, and a satisfactory commencement has been made in opening up both exchange and local business. In view of the large initial, but non-recurring, outlay incidental to opening and equipping offices in London and Yokohama, the above result may be deemed not unsatisfactory.

The net profit, after making allowance for rebate, &c., amounts to 165,457*l.* 6s. 5d., which together with 18,608*l.* 6s. 8d. brought forward makes an aggregate of 184,065*l.* 13s. 1d., of which 22,500*l.* was absorbed by the interim dividend paid on 28th April last. From the Report adopted January 22, 1907.—The directors submit the accounts for the half-year ended 31st December, 1906, which have been examined and certified by the auditors. Deducting the expenses of management, the profit for the half-year, as shown by the profit and loss statement, amounts to 70,715*l.* 9s. 9d., and after providing for interest upon fixed deposits and inscribed deposit stock, amounting to 68,293*l.* 4s. 4d., there remains a profit of 2,422*l.* 5s. 5d. as a result of the half-year's working, which the directors recommend to be added to the balance from last half-year, 5,511*l.* 5s. 4d., making 7,933*l.* 10s. 9d.; the directors recommend that 5,000*l.* be placed to the credit of new reserve fund, making it 10,000*l.*, and leaving to be carried forward 2,933*l.* 10s. 9d.

* On April 20, 1893, the Australian Joint Stock Bank suspended payment. Reconstruction was at once commenced, and the Australian Joint Stock Bank, Limited, was registered under the New South Wales Companies Act of 1874 on June 16, 1893. For each old share of 10*l.* with 9*l.* paid, the new bank issued two new shares of 10*l.* each, with 4*l.* 10s. credited as paid up, while 3*l.* per share was made payable by instalments (all paid). Early in 1897 another scheme of re-arrangement between the company and the old creditors was carried through, and there were issued A and B deposit receipts and inscribed deposit stock. Of the inscribed deposit stock as above, 606,430*l.* was held in Great Britain; of the A deposit receipts 191,240*l.* and of the B deposit receipts 1,357,379*l.* were held in Great Britain. The A deposit receipts were made payable in equal instalments extending from 1898 to 1907, and have now been paid in full. The B deposit receipts are to be payable in equal instalments, January 1, 1912, and January 1, 1917, or at any time earlier, at the company's option, on one month's notice; the B deposit receipts carry interest at 3 per cent. per annum, with a contingent increase to 4. Inscribed deposit stock is repayable only at the option of the bank after 1907, on six months' notice, and bears interest at the rate of 3½ per cent. per annum, with a contingent increase of 1 per cent. per annum. B deposit receipts may be received by the bank at a price to be fixed by the directors in payment for debts or properties sold. Holders of inscribed deposit stock are entitled to receive rateably with holders of fixed deposit receipts an additional rate of 1 per cent. per annum out of surplus profits in the half-year preceding the due date for the payment of interest, after making appropriations towards the reserve fund, and providing for share dividends of 2s. per share per annum. Until all the B fixed deposit receipts are paid off the share dividend is not to exceed 3s. per share per annum. In 1904 the capital was further written down by 6*l.* 10s. per share on all the shares, except 506, from which 5*l.* 5s. was written off, and 956, from which 5*l.* was written off.

From the Report adopted March 28, 1907.—The directors submit to the proprietors the balance-sheet as at 15th October last, with the profit account for the half-year to that date. After providing for rebate on bills current, for British and colonial rates and taxes, and for all bad and doubtful debts, the net profit for the half-year amounted to 170,511*l.* 7s. 1d. To this sum must be added 17,350*l.* 5s. 6d. brought forward from the previous half-year, making a total of 187,861*l.* 12s. 7d., out of which the directors have declared a dividend for the half-year at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum, or 2*l.* 8s. per share, and a bonus of 8s. per share, free of income tax. The dividend and bonus will absorb 112,000*l.*, and the directors have further appropriated 30,000*l.* to the reserve fund, 12,000*l.* in reduction of the cost of bank premises, and 17,000*l.* as a bonus to the staff of 10 per cent. on their salaries. There will then remain 16,861*l.* 12s. 7d. to be carried forward to the next account.

Transfers of bank stock are charged 9s. for sums of 25*l.* and under, and 12s. for sums over 25*l.* Transfers of Eastern Bengal Railway annuities, and Scinde, Punjaub and Delhi Railway annuities, and of Eastern Bengal Railway, East Indian Railway, Great Indian Peninsula Railway, and South Indian Railway debenture stocks, and Egyptian Government 3½ per cent. preference stock are subject to stamp duty. All transfers (except in the case of Eastern Bengal Railway, East Indian Railway, Great Indian Peninsula Railway, and South Indian Railway debenture stocks, Thames Conservancy A and B debenture stocks, Chinese 5 and 4½ per cent. stocks, Greek 2½ per cent. stock, and Japanese 5 per cent. stock) must be made in the bank books by the stockholder, or by his duly authorised attorney. Eastern Bengal Railway annuities, and Scinde, &c., Railway annuities are not transferable in fractional parts of 1*l.*, except when such fractional parts have been allotted to the stockholders in respect of their former holdings of railway stock. Eastern Bengal Railway and Thames Conservancy debenture stocks are transferable only in multiples of 1*l.*; East Indian Railway, Great Indian Peninsula Railway, and South Indian Railway debenture stocks in multiples of 10*l.*; Chinese 5 and 4½ per cent. stocks in multiples of 25*l.*; Greek 2½ per cent. stock in multiples of 100*l.*; and Japanese 5 per cent. stock only in such sums in yen as are represented by the relative bonds.

The balance for a dividend is struck about four or five weeks (Bank stock about three weeks, and Red Sea and India Telegraph annuity about two weeks) before such dividend is payable, on a date of which public notice is given, the stock being subsequently transferable "ex dividend."

Dividends.

Coupons payable at the Bank of England must be presented at the dividend pay-office between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. (10 a.m. and 12 noon on Saturdays), and must be left three clear days (if presented at a branch five clear days), or in the case of Egyptian coupons four clear days, for examination.

Dividends on sterling stocks transferable at the Bank are now paid by warrants sent by post—(1) To sole or first stockholders without application, in the absence of any instructions to the contrary (sole stockholder includes sole surviving stockholder, sole executor or administrator, and sole surviving executor or administrator; first stockholder includes the first executor); (2) to any stockholder, executor, or administrator, other than the sole, or first, stockholder, executor, or administrator, or to any person, firm, or company, upon the written request, in the prescribed form, of all the stockholders, executors, or administrators.

Dividends, however, are paid to any stockholder, executor, or administrator, personally attending at the Bank, on his written request, in the case of a sole account, or on the written request of all the stockholders, executors, or administrators, in the case of a joint account. The request in either case must be in the prescribed form. Forms of postal request, or of requests for the receipt of dividends on personal attendance, can be obtained at the Bank of England, or at any of its branches. Forms of postal request in respect to English Government stocks can also be obtained at any money-order office throughout the United Kingdom. A separate form must be used for each separate holding of stock.

Dividends on Indian Railway and Thames Conservancy debenture stocks, Chinese 5 and 4½ per cent. stocks, Greek 2½ per cent. stock, Japanese 5 per cent. stock, and Corporation of London 2½ per cent. debenture stock are paid by transmission of warrants through the post to the stockholders or their nominees.

Dividends on Indian rupee promissory notes and registered stock are paid—(a) On personal application at the India Office, Bank of England, to the owner of the notes or stock, or to his attorney or agent; (b) by post—to the owner of the notes or stock, or to his attorney or agent. Dividends on promissory notes and registered stock are paid by bills of exchange on India, commonly called interest bills. As an interest bill is payable in India in rupees, the bill is usually sold in London, for sterling, at the exchange of the day, through a banker or other agent.

The dividend office is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. (9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays). The India Office, Bank of England, is open from 9.30 a.m. to 4 p.m. (9.30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays).

Facilities for the Investment of Dividends through the Bank of England.

The Bank of England is prepared, in accordance with instructions received, to undertake the investment, in the same stock, of the dividends upon 2¾ per Cent. Consolidated Stock, commonly called "Consols," 2½ per cent. Annuities, Local Loans 3 per cent. stock, War 2¾ per cent. stock, Guaranteed 2¾ per cent. stock (Irish), India 3½, 3, and 2½ per cent. stocks, Transvaal 3 per cent. stock, Metropolitan 3½, 3, and 2½ per cent. stocks, and London County 3 and 2½ per cent. stocks.

The instructions apply only to amounts of stock less than 1,000*l*. Such stock may stand in one, two, three, or four names. In joint accounts, one at least of the stockholders must be over 21 years of age. Proof of the date of birth of any stockholder under 21 years of age must be lodged with the Bank of England. The stock must already be standing in the applicant's name. The Bank does not undertake the original investment.

The investment of a dividend will not take place until about a month after it is due, thus giving a stockholder the opportunity of taking any particular dividend in person, if he wishes to do so. Such taking of any dividend, or dividends, by the stockholder in person, will not interfere with the investment by the Bank of England of subsequent dividends.

All unreceived arrear dividends (if any) are dealt with at the time of the first investment under the order.

For each 1*l.*, or part of 1*l.*, invested, there will be a charge of 1d. Should a stockholder wish to be informed of each purchase, the Bank of England will furnish particulars for an additional charge of 3d. per investment. These charges will be deducted from the dividends before the investments are made. When any person, who has elected to dispense with advices, subsequently makes inquiry as to the amount of the accumulated stock, he will be furnished with such information upon payment of 3d. per investment, with a maximum charge of 2s. 6d.

Orders for the investment of dividends will be cancelled—by the sum of stock exceeding 1,000*l.*; by the death of a stockholder; by a written request to stop the purchases; or, by the coming of age of a minor in the account.

The dividends cannot be invested on an account in which a deceased name appears, and it should be remembered that proof of death does not remove a stockholder's name from the Bank books.

Under the provisions of Act 55 & 56 Vict., ch. 39 sec. 3—(a) Where an infant is the sole survivor in an account; (b) where an infant holds stock jointly with a person under legal disability; and (c) where stock has by mistake been bought in or transferred into the sole name of an infant, the Bank may, at the request in writing of the parent, guardian, or next friend of the infant, receive the dividends and apply them to the purchase of like stock, and the stock so purchased shall be added to the original investment. In these cases the limit of 1,000*l.*, mentioned above, does not apply.

Forms can be obtained on personal application at the Head Office of the Bank of England, or at any of its branches.

Powers of Attorney.

Applications for powers of attorney must be lodged by hand at the power of attorney office. Applications made through the post cannot be attended to. Applications are received between the hours of 9.30 a.m. and 4 p.m. (9.30 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Saturdays), but if sale (or transfer) powers are required the same day, applications must be lodged before 12.30 p.m., or 2 p.m. with a fee of 2s. 6d. (10.30 a.m. [or 11 a.m. with a fee of 2s. 6d.] on Saturdays).

Powers for acceptance, sale, or transfer, or any combination thereof, or including dividends, cost 11s. 6d. Powers for sale of English Government stock where the nominal amount does not exceed 100*l.*, 4s.

Executed powers for sale, transfer, &c., must be presented for examination at the power of attorney office, and, if lodged before 2 p.m. (11 a.m. on Saturdays), and found to be in order, may be acted upon on the following day.

Stock Certificates to Bearer.

Stock certificates to bearer, with coupons for dividends attached, can be obtained in exchange for:—(a) $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Consolidated stock, $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. and $2\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. Annuities, Local Loans 3 per cent. stock, and Guaranteed $2\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. stock (Irish); (a) India $3\frac{1}{2}$, 3, and $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. stocks; (b) Metropolitan and London County stocks and Metropolitan Water B stock; (a) New Zealand, New South Wales, Queensland (except Queensland $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. stock, 1921) and Transvaal stocks; (c) Liverpool and Birmingham corporation stocks; (a) and the other corporation stocks, viz.: London $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. and 3 per cent. debenture stocks, Birkenhead $2\frac{3}{4}$ per cent., Huddersfield 3 per cent., Hull $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. (Irredeemable, Manchester 3 per cent., Nottingham 3 per cent. (Irredeemable) and 3 per cent. (Redeemable), Swansea $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., and Wolverhampton $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. stocks, also Middlesex County stock.

Stock certificates are issued to "bearer," but holders of English Government Funds, and of Metropolitan, London County, New Zealand, New South Wales and Queensland stocks can insert a name, and so make the certificate "nominal," in which case it cannot be re-inscribed in any name other than that so inserted.

"Nominal" stock certificates, if duly endorsed, may be exchanged for "bearer" certificates on payment of a fee of 1s. per certificate.

Certificates may be exchanged for either larger or smaller denominations on payment at the rate of 1s. per certificate surrendered.

War bonds can be obtained in exchange for War stock without payment of any fee, and can be re-inscribed into stock on payment of a fee of 1s. per bond.

Subsequent to the date on which the last coupon is payable, a stock certificate, upon its presentation at the chief cashier's office, will be exchanged, free of charge, for a new certificate. This regulation does not apply to stocks whose term of currency has expired.

INDIAN GOVERNMENT PROMISSORY NOTE RUPEE LOANS.

Promissory notes of the 3½ per cent. loans of 1842-3, 1854-5, May 1, 1865, 1879 and 1900-1 and the 3 per cent. loan of 1896-7 can be converted into stock at the India Office, Bank of England, but should application be made for the re-conversion of such stock into notes within six months the transaction will be treated as an exchange of notes for notes. Promissory notes of all the above loans can be obtained in exchange for stock at the India Office, Bank of England, on payment of a fee of 2s. per note issued; or for notes of which the backs are filled with endorsements or memoranda, on payment of a fee of 2s. per note surrendered. Loan certificates to bearer of the loan of 1854-5 can be converted into stock of that loan; but stock cannot be exchanged for loan certificates. Stock can be transferred to India, and certificates of the transfer obtained at the India Office, Bank of England.

From the Report adopted June 29, 1906.—The directors submit herewith the balance-sheet and profit and loss statement of the bank for the year ended 31st March last. The profits, after providing for expenses of management, all bad and doubtful debts in the bank's current business, and making provision for annual donation to provident fund, and for bonus to staff, are 330,329*l.* 14s. 3d. From this has to be deducted interest on guaranteed stock, 40,000*l.*, leaving 290,329*l.* 14s. 3d. Of this sum the directors have allocated 16,000*l.* 14s. 3d. as under: in reduction of Bank of New Zealand premises and furniture, 15,500*l.* 14s. 3d.; in reduction of Colonial Bank premises, 500*l.*; leaving balance of profit 274,329*l.* This the directors have disposed of as follows: Statutory payment to Assets Realisation Board, 50,000*l.*; provision for dividend at the rate of 5 per cent. for the year ended 31st March, 1906, on 500,000*l.* preference shares issued to the Crown in terms of "the Bank of New Zealand Act, 1903," 25,000*l.*; provision for dividend at the rate of 5 per cent. for the year ended 31st March, 1906, on 500,000*l.* ordinary share capital, 25,000*l.* surplus paid to Assets Realisation Board in terms of "the Bank of New Zealand Act, 1903," clause 15, including 3,482*l.* 1s. 5d. on account of income tax on debentures, 174,329*l.*

In January, 1907, an interim dividend of 5 per cent. was paid on the ordinary shares.

* Of recent years the capital of this bank has been rearranged on several occasions, and in all a very considerable total has had to be written off. The company was largely interested in the Bank of New Zealand Estates Company, Limited, and the Auckland Agricultural Company, Limited. By an Act passed in 1895 the assets of these two companies were sold to an Assets Realisation Board, the purchase price being in 3½ per cent. debentures, any deficiency in payment of interest and principal of the debentures being charged on the colony, on calls on Bank of New Zealand ordinary shares payable in 1896 and 1897, and also on the uncalled capital of the bank, besides an appropriation from the profits of the bank. By Act of the New Zealand parliament, passed in November, 1903, very considerable alterations were made in the capital. The ordinary shares were formerly of 3*l.* 6s. 8d. each, fully paid, with a reserved liability of the same amount, but by the Act of 1903 the reserved liability was altered into ordinary liability, the shares being now of 6*l.* 13s. 4d. each, with 3*l.* 6s. 8d. paid, the liability of the shareholders being limited to the uncalled capital. Four per cent. guaranteed stock for 2,000,000*l.*, guaranteed by the New Zealand government, matured on July 19, 1904, and it was renewed to the extent of 1,000,000*l.* for ten years, also under guarantee from the New Zealand government. An issue of 500,000*l.* 3½ per cent. preferred shares was made to the government in 1895, but repurchased by the Bank in 1901, and under the Act of 1903 a fresh issue of 500,000*l.* of preference shares of 6*l.* 13s. 4d. each was made to the government as at March 31, 1904, payment therefor being made in cash and securities; these preference shares rank before the ordinary for 5 per cent. non-cumulative dividends, and are to rank equally with the ordinary in dividends in excess of 5 per cent. on the latter to the extent of one-half of such excess, with a maximum of 10 per cent., and they have also a priority over the ordinary as regards capital, carry no liability and no voting rights. After providing for interest on the guaranteed stock, profits had to be applied in the first place in paying 50,000*l.* a year (cumulative) to the Assets Board, then in providing 5 per cent. dividends on the preference and ordinary shares, any balance to go to the Assets Board. The total amount paid over to the Assets Board in respect of the year ended March, 1904, was 179,022*l.*; 1904-5, 206,311*l.*; and 1905-6, 224,329*l.* In December, 1906, however, the outstanding debentures of the Assets Realisation Board were paid off, the remaining properties were transferred to the bank, and the Board was liquidated.

† Ordinary forms are accepted if the following clause be added:—"And more especially I agree to be bound by the deed of settlement of the said bank, and by the various acts of the legislature of the colony of New Zealand affecting the said bank," and this clause must be initialled by the buyer of the stock or shares.

The net profit after making provision for bad and doubtful debts amounts to 26,456*l.* 11s. From the Report adopted March 21, 1907.—The directors present to the shareholders the annexed statement of the assets and liabilities of the bank and the profit and loss account for the financial year ended 31st December last. In the Argentine Republic the season's crops, with the exception of maize, give promise of being nearly equal to previous record years. New railway, banking and industrial capital is being introduced in order to meet the consequent development, and a continuance of active business may be looked for. A temporary set-back, in the form of a prosperity crisis, occurred at the end of the year, but with the restoration of confidence, greater prudence has been inculcated, with beneficial result. The crops also in the Uruguayan Republic have exceeded all expectation, and the wool clip is a large one. The political situation is calm and the future is looked forward to with confidence. In Brazil the position is dominated by the measures initiated in support of exchange and of the value of coffee. These have been subjected to some criticism, and their outcome will be anxiously watched by all who have the prosperity of the Republic at heart. The gross profits for the year, after allowing for rebate of interest on current bills and drafts, and interest on deposits and making full provision for bad and doubtful debts and contingencies, amount to 236,985*l.* 14s. 6d.; which with the balance of 28,220*l.* 9s. 10d. brought forward from the previous year makes 265,206*l.* 4s. 4d. After deducting all charges of the head office and branches, amounting to 107,763*l.* 13s. 1d., and income tax and government taxes in Brazil and the River Plate, together 7,151*l.* 7s. 10d., there remains 150,291*l.* 3s. 5d. available. Out of this sum the directors, by virtue of the powers conferred upon them by the articles of association, have transferred 50,000*l.* to the reserve fund, raising it to 425,000*l.* From this sum no deduction is necessary for depreciation of capital employed in South America. They have also transferred 5,000*l.* to bank premises account, reducing the amount thereof to 125,629*l.* 3s. 11d.; 5,000*l.* to pension fund, which, with interest at 5 per cent., now amounts to 25,959*l.* 19s. 1d.; and they have set apart 4,500*l.* for the payment of a bonus to staff. A dividend on account of 6s. per share, amounting to 15,000*l.*, was paid in September last, and it is recommended that a further dividend of 10s. per share, and a bonus of 4s. per share, both free of income tax, amounting together to 35,000*l.*, be now declared, payable on the 22nd instant, making for the year a distribution of 2s. per share, or 10 per cent., free of income tax, on the paid-up capital of the bank. After making the above transfers and paying the above dividend and bonus, there will remain the sum of 35,791*l.* 3s. 5d., which the directors propose to carry forward.

* In March, 1907, it was decided to increase the capital to 1,500,000*l.* by the creation of 25,000 additional shares of 20*l.* each, which it is intended to offer pro rata to the existing shareholders, on a date and on terms to be fixed by the directors.

From the Report adopted March 4, 1907.—The directors have pleasure in submitting the following statement of the results of the bank's business for the nine months, together with an abstract of the general balance-sheet as on January 15, certified by the auditors. The net profits for the nine months, after providing for bad and doubtful debts, interest due to customers, and rebate on bills current, were 207,267*l.* 11s. 4d.; balance from previous year, 66,521*l.* 6s. 9d.—together, 273,788*l.* 18s. 1d., of which sum there has been applied in payment of the half-year's dividend at Christmas last, at the rate of 20 per cent. per annum, 125,000*l.*, and in reduction of cost of bank offices, 10,000*l.* The directors recommend that there now be applied in payment, on March 15, a dividend for the three months ending 15th January, at the rate of 20 per cent. per annum, 62,500*l.*, which will leave 76,288*l.* 18s. 1d., to be carried forward at the credit of the current year's profit and loss account. From the Report adopted April 17, 1907.—The directors have now to submit to the shareholders the balance-sheet and profit and loss account of the bank for the year ended 31st December last. These show a net profit, after providing for bad and doubtful debts, of 350,369*l.* 8s., inclusive of 86,111*l.* 14s. 4d. brought forward from the previous year. The interim dividend at the rate of 13 per cent. per annum paid in October last absorbed 52,000*l.*, and a further sum of 18,000*l.* has been appropriated to pay a bonus of 10 per cent. on the salaries of the staff. The amount now available is therefore 280,369*l.* 8s., out of which the directors propose to pay a final dividend at the rate of 13 per cent. per annum, making 13 per cent. for the whole year; to add 100,000*l.* to the reserve fund, which will then stand at 1,075,000*l.*; to add 10,000*l.* to the officers' superannuation fund; to write off premises account, 25,000*l.*; and to carry forward the balance of 93,369*l.* 8s.

* In May, 1907, it was decided to increase the capital to 1,200,000*l.* by the creation and issue of 20,000 new shares of 20*l.* each, which it was intended to offer to the shareholders at a premium of 20*l.* per share, payment to be made in equal instalments on June 1, August 1, October 1, and December 2. Interest on such instalments is to be paid at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum until December 31, 1907, after which date the new shares are to rank in all respects pari passu with the old shares.

From the Report adopted April 10, 1907.—Out of the preceding balance, amounting to 48,614*l*. 10s. 6d., the directors recommend a dividend of 3 per cent. for the half-year ended 31st December last, free of income tax, which will require 18,000*l*., leaving 30,614*l*. 10s. 6d. to be carried forward to the next half-year. The course of business in the West Indies has been of a normal character, the bank's operations showing no change of importance during the past half-year. Deposits and current accounts have been well maintained. Seasons have been fairly favourable, and the crops of sugar and cocoa may be expected to be up to the average, while the planting of cotton is extending. The earthquake and fire which destroyed Kingston, Jamaica, did not occur in the half-year dealt with in the accounts now presented, but the circumstances are so exceptional that the Court have thought it expedient to bear it in mind when dealing with the figures. The building of the bank has been destroyed, with the exception of the strong room, the contents of which were found uninjured. The cost of re-building will be fully covered by the Bank's Insurance Fund. Thanks to the courage and energy of the manager and staff the cash and books were placed in safety in the strong room. It is impossible as yet to say what loss will be caused to the bank by the destruction of property belonging to the bank's customers. It is not anticipated that it will prove serious. The Court, however, have thought it prudent to pay 3 per cent. only for the half-year, and to increase the carry forward as above shown.

From the Report adopted February 7, 1907.—The board of directors submit to the shareholders the accompanying balance-sheet and statement of profit and loss for the half-year ended 31st December, 1906, with the usual auditor's certificates. The net profits amount to 74,861*l.* 4s. 11d., to which is added amount brought forward, 13,733*l.* 19s. 5d., making a total of 88,595*l.* 4s. 4d., which it is proposed to apportion as follows: To dividend on the preference shares at 3 per cent. per annum, free of Victorian income tax, 31,760*l.* 5s.; to transfer to the Special Assets Trust Company, Limited, 28,509*l.* 14s. 8d.; to transfer to the Special Assets Trust reserve, 12,500*l.*; to transfer to officers' guarantee and provident fund, 2,000*l.*; to carry forward to next half-year, 13,825*l.* 4s. 8d. The sum of 28,509*l.* 14s. 8d. shown above has been transferred from the bank's profit and loss account to the Special Assets Trust Company, Limited, whose deposit receipts are guaranteed by the bank, and whose operations for the period under review, after providing for interest and all other charges, resulted in a net loss of that amount. An additional sum of 12,500*l.* has been transferred to the Special Assets Trust reserve.

* On April 4, 1893, the bank suspended payment. Reconstruction was decided upon, and the bank was re-registered under the same title as before on April 28, 1893, under the Victorian Companies Act of 1890. In 1896 it was found necessary to again reorganise the relations between the company and the creditors of the old bank. Under the rearrangement of 1896 the preference shares are entitled to dividends of 4 per cent. per annum, those for the first three years to be cumulative at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum, and thereafter cumulative at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum, and the shares have also a priority over the ordinary as to capital. For each old ordinary share of 10*l.*, with 4*l.* paid, there was issued under the scheme of 1893 one new ordinary share of 10*l.*, with 4*l.* credited as paid, and the balance of 6*l.* has been called up, but in 1897 4*l.* per share was written off, and in 1902, 5*l.* 10s., reducing each ordinary share from 10*l.* to 10s. Under the plan of 1893 the general creditors of the bank received fully-paid preference shares for one-third of their claims, and deposit receipts for two-thirds, these receipts carrying interest (subsequent to the date of maturity of the claims for which they were issued) at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum. The main object of the plan of 1896 was to separate the bulk of the business prior to the suspension of 1893 from new business obtained by the bank. The entire block of old assets has been transferred to an assets realisation company. The deposit receipts issued under the plan of 1893, and outstanding at the time of the reconstruction in 1896, were exchanged to the extent of one-third into "extended deposits, A series" of the bank, bearing interest at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum until September 30, 1899, and thereafter at the rate of 3½ per cent. per annum, while the principal was made payable—one-tenth September 30, 1896, one-tenth September 30, 1897, and one-fifth on September 30 in each of the years 1899, 1901, 1903, and 1906. The remaining two-thirds of the old deposit receipts were made a first charge upon the remaining assets of the old bank existing prior to the suspension in 1893, and carrying 3 per cent. interest from July 1, 1896, such interest to be paid half-yearly out of the proceeds of realisations and income from the said assets, while the punctual payment of interest is guaranteed by the bank, for the payment of which, if necessary, the bank is to make advances. All monies received in respect of the old assets are to be placed to the credit of a special account applicable at the end of each half-year, when such amount totals 50,000*l.* or upwards, to the providing interest and other expenses chargeable on the assets of the old bank, and then in redeeming a portion of the deposit receipts, such portion to be determined by drawings or by tenders, while all the deposit receipts not repaid previously are to be redeemed July 1, 1916, any deficit on realisation of assets to be provided by the bank. Power is reserved to the bank to repay at any time all or any of the deposit receipts issued for the one-third of the old deposit receipts. Amounts owing on current and deposit accounts received by the bank subsequent to the suspension in 1893 rank as a first charge on the new assets of the bank, prior to the deposit receipts issued in respect of the old liabilities. Until deposit receipts issued by the bank under the plan of 1896 shall have been paid, one-third of the surplus profits, after payment of the preference dividend, is to be placed to a special reserve fund, which is not to be avail able for dividends, and no dividend in excess of 4 per cent. per annum is to be paid on the ordinary shares.

In 1901 a new general manager was appointed, and a revaluation of the assets held by the Special Assets Trust Company was immediately made. On December 31, 1903, the deposit receipts of the Trust Company, with accrued interest, amounted to 3,334,903*l.*, while the remaining assets of the Trust Company were valued at 1,800,000*l.* On this statement the bank's interest in the Special Assets Trust Company, amounting at December 31, 1901 (after deducting the then Assets Trust reserve fund), to 676,334*l.*, became valueless. It was decided to write down the ordinary shares from 6*l.* to 10*s.* each, thus providing 1,100,000*l.*, this to be applied in the first place in writing off the above-mentioned 676,334*l.*, the balance being placed to a suspense account until the amount of the bank's liabilities under its guarantee of the Assets Trust Company's deposit receipts is finally determined in 1916. The amount thus held in suspense, deducted from the deficiency estimated by the general manager, left a balance of about 1,076,000*l.* to be provided to meet the bank's guarantee in 1916, which, of course, would be reduced should the assets realise more than the estimate. It is hoped to provide any deficiency from profits.

From the Report adopted April 10, 1907.—The directors submit herewith the audited balance-sheet and profit and loss statement for the half-year ended 31st December, 1906. The net profit realised during the six months amounts to 8,672*l.* 18s. 4d., which, added to the balance of 4,963*l.* 14s. 3d. brought forward from the previous half-year, gives a total at credit of profit and loss account of 13,636*l.* 12s. 7d., and this sum the directors propose to deal with as follows:—6,752*l.* 10s. for the payment of a dividend for the half-year at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum, free of income tax, payable on and after the 15th April, 1907; 1,500*l.* to doubtful accounts; 5,384*l.* 2s. 7d. to be carried forward to next account.

In the auditors' certificate to the accounts for the half-year to December 31, 1906, the following statement appears:—"There are various irregular accounts included in the assets, the losses on which have not as yet been provided for. It is estimated by the board that not more than 14,000*l.* will be necessary for this purpose."

From the Report adopted March 27, 1907.—The net profits of the year 1906, amounting to 1,457,394*l.*, represent 14·57 per cent. on the paid-up capital of 10,000,000*l.*, and are to be appropriated as follows: 1,100,000*l* to dividend of 12 per cent. to shareholders (including proportion payable on new shares); 145,072*l.* to reserves; 44,032*l.* to directors; 112,500*l.* to superannuation fund and gratuities to staff; and 55,790*l.* carried forward to new account. Universal industrial activity and stagnation on the Bourses have been the predominant characteristics of the past year—the thirty-seventh of our bank's existence. In our annual report for the previous year we pointed out that, not only in the United States but also in Europe and especially in Germany, the creation of new undertakings and securities had progressed at a greater rate than the growth of capital. This fact has been still more in evidence during the year under review and has sensibly affected economic development in all directions. Increasing difficulties attending the sale of high-class securities carrying fixed rates of interest have compelled German municipal authorities to issue 4 per cent. in place of 3½ per cent. loans and correspondingly enhanced terms have had to be paid by industrial corporations seeking to borrow in the market. A scarcity of buyers of shares has also been prevalent, which seemed to disappear only temporarily in the late autumn after the good harvest. Generally speaking, quotations of shares have fallen in the same way as those of bonds, notwithstanding that manufacturing companies have enjoyed great prosperity and in numerous instances have paid higher dividends. Under all these circumstances it was not difficult to find remunerative employment for the large volume of funds entrusted to our care, but, on the other hand, in consequence of excessive competition, comparatively high rates of interest have had to be bonified on credit balances and deposits. The building trade and borrowers on real estate were the first to feel the increasing scarcity of investment funds, which has, of course, also been experienced by manufacturers generally, whose capital requirements have largely increased consequent upon the great activity prevailing in industrial circles. The rise in the cost of raw materials has in numerous cases far exceeded the increase in the prices of the manufactured goods and market quotations, for instance, of some of the principal metals, have now reached a level which must exercise a restrictive effect on their consumption. German statistics show that whilst the imports increased by 36,100,000*l.* and the exports by 19,700,000*l.* the excess of imports over exports advanced from 69,900,000*l.* in 1905 to 86,300,000*l.* in 1906. These figures certainly reflect increased prosperity, but also may be regarded in the light of a warning. The influence of the same circumstances affecting business in Germany has in still greater degree been experienced in the United States of America, where, notwithstanding a splendid harvest and unsurpassed industrial activity, quotations of securities have declined in numerous instances, a perceptible lack of sufficient capital has made itself felt, and the most important railway companies in the union have been compelled to issue bonds at rates of interest at least one per cent. higher than usually paid on such loans. As the causes which have given rise to the present strained position of the money markets of the world are not of a temporary nature, but can be removed only gradually by economy and retrenchment, we can scarcely hope for a continuation during the current year of the present prosperity notwithstanding the absence so far of excessive speculation. The German bank rate of discount has averaged 5.14 per cent., or 1.33 per cent. higher than in the previous year; the average private discount rate has risen from 2.85 per cent. in 1905 to 4.04 per cent. in 1906. On Stock Exchange loans against first-class securities we have received on an average 5.12 per cent. against 4.03 in the preceding year. The turnover of the bank in the past year amounted to 4,279,500,000*l.* against 3,860,000,000*l.* in 1905. The number of current, deposit and other accounts open in the books of the bank has increased during the past year from 139,451 to 164,494.

From the Report adopted March 25, 1907.—The gross profit for the year 1906 amounts to 1,338,305*l.* After deducting all expenses, &c., 328,755*l.*, taxes 63,247*l.*, bad and doubtful debts 4,042*l.*, together 396,044*l.*, there remains a net profit of 942,261*l.*, out of which it is proposed to pay the partners' and directors' participation, and a dividend of 9 per cent. (same as in 1905) on the capital (which, exclusive of the unlimited liability of the acting partners, amounts to 8,500,000*l.*) 876,842*l.*; to transfer to the David Hansemann's pension fund for the staff, 7,500*l.*; to carry forward to new account, 57,919*l.* The prosperity of commerce and industry in Germany has continued during the year 1906. Foreign trade shows record figures, and the growing purchasing power of the country is proving a powerful factor in the development of its economic conditions. The iron and coal industries show a much larger production, but profits have to a certain extent been curtailed by higher working expenses. In conjunction with other banking houses we have founded the Christoph-Friedrich Coal Mining Company, near Merseburg. The strained monetary conditions have adversely affected all Stock Exchange operations during the larger part of the year. The Direction der Disconto-Gesellschaft were instrumental in converting the banking house of Stahl & Federer, Stuttgart, into a limited company, and, together with the Norddeutsche Bank, they founded the Deutsche Afrika Bank Actiengesellschaft, Hamburg, with branches in South-West Africa, taking over the banking business of the Damara-und Namaqua-Handels-Gesellschaft. The figures presented in the report show a satisfactory extension of business, the total turnover, including that of the Norddeutsche Bank in Hamburg, amounting roughly to 2,563,140,000*l.* against 2,409,210,000*l.* in 1905. The balances on Deposit and Current accounts total 19,001,368*l.* against 16,272,523*l.* in 1905.

From the Report adopted March 30, 1907.—We beg to report that out of the profits for the year ending 31st December, 1906, we recommend a dividend of 8½ per cent., being the same rate as for 1905. The gross profits shown do not include the revenue derived from the account "Investments in other banks" for the year 1906, which will be credited in the accounts for 1907. The turnover amounts to M. 58,600,888,631·10, as against M. 53,211,002,401·75 in 1905. The apprehensions, which found expression in several quarters at the beginning of the year as regards the economic conditions anticipated in the year 1906, have not materialised. After the satisfactory conclusion of the Algeciras conference, the clouds which had gathered on the political horizon were dispersed, and confidence in the preservation of peace among the Great Powers strongly reasserted itself. Calmer views were also taken as regards the situation in our great neighbouring empire, Russia, to which we are bound by economic ties of great importance. The demand of consumers in all civilised countries has seen such a vast and continued increase that no difficulties were met by the industries of Europe and America of finding a market for their production, enhanced as this production has been by years of continued remarkable growth. In these circumstances the export trade of Germany has shown no signs of diminution, and the prediction of experts, expressed before the new tariff came into operation, that the important increase which then took place in both imports and exports of goods subject to the higher duties would prove harmful to German foreign trade has not been borne out by facts. As simultaneously the internal demand has shown an extremely favourable development, the purchasing power of agriculture, aided by satisfactory crops and higher prices, and that of the working classes consequent upon higher wages being materially strengthened, nearly all branches of trade and industry received large benefits by the commercial activity. Notwithstanding its large increase, production suffered a limitation, not by the volume of the demand but by a shortness of labour, and by the fact that the facilities for transport failed to keep pace with requirements. Turning to another page of the year's history we have to refer to the unwelcome rise in the rates of interest for loans, not only in Germany, but on all international money markets, the only exception being France, which however owes the advantage of cheaper money chiefly to the less pronounced activity of its industries. In Germany the large earnings of industries were in a measure absorbed by monetary requirements in connection with extension of factories and the larger demands for working capital. The importation of raw material made important claims on the money market, partly as regards the increased quantities of goods imported, but principally owing to the higher prices ruling for such staples as copper, zinc, cotton, &c., especially as an increasing percentage of the same was needed, not for purposes of exports, but for the satisfaction of domestic requirements. In order to show the importance of the figures involved in these operations we may refer to official statistics showing already in the year 1905 an excess of imports over exports of 1,397 million marks (without counting the precious metals), which excess in the year 1906 has grown to 1,725 million marks, or an increase of 328 million marks. Then again there were the continuous demands on the European money markets by the credit requirements of the United States, while, as regards Germany in particular, large sums had to be remitted by the German Fire Insurance Companies in satisfaction of claims consequent upon the San Francisco catastrophe. A number of adverse factors contributed to accentuate the tension in our money market, which it will be the task of our legislative and administrative authorities to remedy. We refer in the first place to the technical imperfections of our monetary customs, which, owing to the inadequate use of cheques, and the greater concentration of payments at the end of each quarter than is usual in other countries, necessitates an excessive displacement of currency. Secondly, to the increased borrowing on the part of State and Municipal bodies which is in inverse ratio to the decreasing demand of investors for internal bonds. A tendency on the part of municipal bodies is gaining ground to extend their activity to fields which formerly were left to private enterprise, and this is calculated gradually to overburden the market for investment securities, to such an extent, as to prejudice its power of absorption of German State Loans. Thirdly, we would mention the unfortunate consequences of our faulty Bourse laws. The effect of having "outlawed" speculation at home, instead of lessening the speculative propensities of the public, has been rather to force them into more hazardous channels abroad.

From the Report adopted October 31, 1906.—The directors beg to submit their thirteenth annual report to the shareholders of the bank, together with a balance-sheet and profit and loss account made up to 30th June, 1906. Deducting expenses of management, the profits for the year, including the balance brought forward, as shown by the profit and loss statement, amount to 168,275*l.* 3s. 1d., and after providing for interest upon the debentures, and the preferred and deferred stocks, 89,999*l.* 19s. 7d., and placing to the credit of reserve fund 15,000*l.*, there remains a credit balance of 63,275*l.* 3s. 6d., which it is proposed to appropriate as follows: To the payment of a further 1½ per cent. interest to the holders of deferred inscribed deposit stock, 11,996*l.* 10s. 4d.; to the payment of a 4½ per cent. dividend to the shareholders, free of income tax, 24,274*l.* 13s. 9d.; to the purchase and cancellation of deferred inscribed deposit stock in accordance with the articles of association, 8,091*l.* 11s. 3d.; to officers' guarantee and provident fund, 1,000*l.*, leaving a balance to be carried forward of 17,912*l.* 8s. 2d. The directors have pleasure in reporting that the season in Australia has been a favourable one, and that the outlook for both the pastoral and agricultural interests is very promising.

* The English, Scottish and Australian Chartered Bank was established in 1852, and suspended payment April 12th, 1893. Reconstruction immediately took place, one half of the old share capital being written off, and for nearly all the claims on the old bank there were issued 4 per cent. debenture stock, terminable deposit receipts, and inscribed deposit stock. In 1896 relations with the creditors of the bank again underwent some reorganisation, two-fifths of the terminable deposit receipts being repaid, while the inscribed deposit stock was divided into preferred and deferred, the preferred ranking for 3 per cent., and the deferred for 3 per cent. (if earned), with a contingent increase up to 4½ per cent. The deferred inscribed deposit stock received only 3 per cent. interest down to 1898-9; since then 4½ per cent. has been paid each year. The last instalment of the terminable deposit receipts was paid July, 1904. In 1897 the share capital was again written down by 10*l.* per share to its present figure.

From the Report adopted February 16, 1907.—The directors have now to submit to you a general statement of the affairs of the bank, and balance-sheet for the half-year ending 31st December, 1906. The net profits for that period, including $1,712,472·37 balance brought forward from last account, after paying all charges, deducting interest paid and due, and making provision for bad and doubtful accounts, amount to $4,433,102·68. The directors recommend the transfer of $750,000 from the profit and loss account to credit of the silver reserve fund, which fund will then stand at $11,000,000. After making this transfer and deducting remuneration to directors, there remains for appropriation $3,668,102·68, out of which the directors recommend the payment of a dividend of one pound and fifteen shillings sterling per share, which at 4s. 6d. will absorb $622,222·22, and a bonus of one pound sterling per share, which at 4s. 6d. will absorb $355,555·55. The difference in exchange between 4s. 6d., the rate at which the dividend and bonus are declared, and 2s. 3½d., the rate of the day, amounts to $968,766 01. The balance, $1,721,558·90, to be carried to new profit and loss account.

* It is proposed to increase the capital to $15,000,000 by the creation of 40,000 new shares of $125 each, which it is intended to offer to the shareholders, at the price of £30 each, in the proportion of one new share to two old shares.

From the Report adopted December 18, 1906.—The directors have now to submit to you a balance-sheet and profit and loss account for the year ended 20th September last. The gross profits for the period mentioned, after making provision for bad and doubtful debts, amount to 119,470*l.* 15s. 2d., to which has to be added 11,023*l.* 15s. 7d. brought forward from last account, making a total of 130,494*l.* 10s. 9d. After deducting expenses of management and general charges, amounting to 52,188*l.* 19s. 6d., the sum remaining amounts to 78,305*l.* 11s. 3d. From this sum 4,036*l.* 18s. 2d., the amount due to the Persian government in terms of the concession, has to be deducted, and also income tax, 3,315*l.* 4s. 7d., leaving 70,953*l.* 8s. 6d., which the directors propose to deal with in the following manner: Six months' interim dividend at the rate of 3s. per share, paid 18th June, 1906, 15,000*l.*; final dividend, at the rate of 5s. per share, to be paid on 22nd December, 1906, 25,000*l.*; transfer to reserve account, 20,000*l.*; carried forward to new account, 10,953*l.* 8s. 6d.

* The company was incorporated by royal charter for the purpose of carrying on banking operations under an exclusive concession, granted by the government of the Shah of Persia for a term of sixty years, for the establishment of a State bank in the Persian empire, and the carrying on of the business of a bank of issue. It is provided that the bank is to hold a metallic reserve equal to at least one-third of the value of the notes in circulation. The government is entitled to 6 per cent. of the net profit in each year, such share not to be less than 4,000*l.* per annum. The subscribed capital was 1,000,000*l.* in shares of 10*l.*, including 200 founders' shares of 10*l.* each, entitled to one-half the net profits in each year after payment of 10 per cent. per annum (cumulative) on the entire share capital; in 1894 3*l.* 10s. per share was written off the capital to provide for depreciation in silver, &c., but the liability was not altered, and the founders' shares only participate after reckoning 10 per cent. on the capital before reduction.

From the Report adopted June 27, 1906.—The general committee have the honour to lay before the shareholders their forty-third annual report. The accounts, made up to the 31st December, 1905, after making allowance for bad and doubtful debts, show net profits of 464,200*l.*, which, added to the balance brought forward from last year, gives 485,176*l.* 12s. 5d. at the credit of the profit and loss account. After deducting from this sum the amount of 63,198*l.* required for the reserve fund and the percentages, in accordance with the statutes, there remains 421,978*l.* 12s. 5d., and of this the committee recommend a distribution of 16s. per share, equal to 8 per cent. on the paid-up capital of the bank, leaving 21,978*l.* 12s. 5d. to be carried forward to the current year.

A dividend of 9 per cent. for the year 1906 is announced.

From the Report issued in April, 1907.—The management submits the following report, with the corporation's ninth semi-annual statement, that of December 31, 1906. Although exports from the United States to the Far East decreased materially during the latter part of the year and trade in China was and still continues to be in a depressed condition, our business for the period just closed was satisfactory and its volume well maintained. In the fire following the earthquake at San Francisco last April the premises occupied by the branch of the corporation at that city were totally destroyed. By the prompt action of the manager our valuables and essential records were removed before the fire reached the building and the business established in temporary quarters on Sutter Street. Our loss due to the earthquake and fire, which at first it was thought might be considerable, proved insignificant, and the branch is now located on Montgomery Street not far from the site of the old office. The temporary office having developed some business of its own, has been retained and is now known as the "Western Addition Branch." Recognising the growth of that city as a place of residence and business, the corporation has since the close of the year opened two new offices in Washington, D.C., in connection with its branch established there in October, 1903. One of the new offices is on Connecticut Avenue, between Farragut Square and Dupont Circle, and the other near the Central Market and the Pennsylvania Railroad Station.

The building, 60 Wall Street, is now well rented and earning a profit which will shortly warrant payment of dividends. As was promised in the report sent you a year ago, The International Bank of New York is now established on a dividend paying basis, and its business is steadily increasing.

From the Report adopted April 9, 1907.—The gross profit for the year, including exceptional profit, after making provision for bad and doubtful debts, and for special reserves, amount to 57,493*l.* 13s. 11d., and deducting income tax, expenses, interest on deposits, and rebate, amounting to 34,579*l.* 9s. 9d., there remains a balance of 22,896*l.* 4s. 2d. To this amount must be added the rest or undivided profit on the 13th January, 1906, 47,762*l.* 7s. 11d., making 70,658*l.* 12s. 1d. which, less 18,930*l.* 12s. paid for final dividend for the year 1905, and interim dividend for first half-year of 1906, leaves a balance of 51,728*l.* 0s. 1d. The directors recommend the payment of a final dividend of 3s. 6d. per share, free of income tax, making with the interim dividend 6 per cent. on the capital of the company for the year 1906. The drachma assets and liabilities of the bank in Greece in this balance-sheet are converted into sterling at the rate of 42·50 per £, and as the ruling rate of exchange on the 13th January, 1907, was only 27·30, the reserve created on excess assets for the nominal depreciation of the bank's capital was 32,186*l.* more than required. The directors recommend that a pension fund shall be established as soon as the necessary amount is available and a suitable scheme prepared, and that for that purpose the sum of 3,000*l.* shall be now set aside, with power for the directors, from time to time, to make contributions out of profits with that object.

* Under the Ionian Bank Act, 1882, an additional 5*l.* per share may be called up, but only on liquidation.

From the Report adopted April 23, 1907.—The directors present to the shareholders at this, their thirty-sixth annual ordinary general meeting, the annexed statement of accounts for the year ending the 31st January last. The accounts have been audited, and show an available balance of 308,865*l.* 15s. (including 100,127*l.* 16s. 6d. brought forward from last year). An interim dividend of 10s. per share, amounting to 37,500*l.*, was paid in October last. The directors now recommend a further payment of 10s. per share, being a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum. The directors also recommend the payment of a bonus of 10s. per share, thus making a total distribution of 15 per cent. per annum, free of income tax, on the paid-up capital of the bank. The above payments will absorb 112,500*l.*, leaving a balance of 196,365*l.* 15s. which the directors recommend should be appropriated as follows: 60,000*l.* to be transferred to the reserve fund, making the amount thereof 760,000*l.*, 30,000*l.* in reduction of bank premises account, 6,000*l.* to staff pension and benevolent fund, and 100,365*l.* 15s. to the credit of profit and loss new account. The capital of the bank employed in South America, as certified in the auditor's report, does not require any provision for depreciation.

* Included in this statement are 25,000 shares, issued in May, 1907, at a premium of 6*l.* each, which are to participate in the profits for the year 1907-8 pari passu with the original shares; so far 6*l.* per share has been paid on the new shares, the remaining 10*l.* per share being due in equal instalments on July 1 and August 1. The reserve fund of 760,000*l.* is exclusive of the premium on the new shares.

From the Report adopted May 13, 1907.—The directors present their report, accompanied as usual by audited accounts, for the year ended 31st December last. The profits, as shown by the annual statement of profit and loss, after deducting management charges and taxes, amount to 83,553*l.* 2s. 9d., to which is added the amount brought forward, 16,106*l.* 13s. 4d., together 99,659*l.* 16s. 1d. After providing for the interest at 4½ per cent. on the transferable deposit receipts for the year 1906, amounting to 47,098*l.* 7s. 9d., there remains a credit balance to be dealt with of 52,561*l.* 8s. 4d., which the directors recommend be appropriated as follows: Dividend of 5½ per cent. on the preference shares for the year ended December 31, 1906, 9,456*l.* 3s.; dividend of 2½ per cent. on the ordinary shares for the same period, 9,197*l.* 7s. 6d.; amount to reserve, 10,000*l.*; balance carried forward to next account, 23,907*l.* 17s. 10d.

The London Bank of Australia, Limited, was registered August 2, 1893, to take over the business of the London Chartered Bank of Australia. The bank has an authorised capital of 2,979,817*l.* 10s.—1,500,000*l.* in preference shares of 10*l.*, and 1,479,817*l.* 10s. in ordinary shares of 22*l.* 10s. The preference shares rank first for cumulative dividends up to 5½ per cent., and have a priority as to capital; the ordinary are then to receive 5 per cent. and of any surplus profits one-half is to be divided amongst the preference shares, to make up the total dividend to 7 per cent., while when they shall have received five yearly dividends at that rate their priority as to dividend is to cease. The ordinary shares are not to receive more than 5 per cent. dividends until all the instalments on the deposit receipts have been paid, with interest. For each old share there was issued one new ordinary share (then 40*l.* each), with 15*l.* credited as paid, and 10*l.* was called up, payable in instalments. In 1899 a sum of 10*l.* per share was written off the ordinary capital, and in 1903 7*l.* 10s., leaving it in 22*l.* 10s. shares one-third called up. A further 2*l.* 10s. per share is liable to be called up whenever it may be deemed expedient by the directors, while the remaining 12*l.* 10s. is reserved liability; shareholders acting as trustees or in any other representative character, on making representations at the time, had the option of paying up in full, 12*l.* 10s. of the amount so paid to carry interest at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum, and 8,190*l.* has been received in this way. As from July 1, 1897, all outstanding deposit receipts were replaced by transferable deposit receipts, carrying 3 per cent. interest fixed, and 1½ per cent. payable only out of profits, both amounts, however, being cumulative. Interest is payable on the transferable deposit receipts January 1 and July 1, and payments in excess of the 3 per cent. must be in even amounts of ¼ per cent., while the principal of the receipts was made payable by instalments on certain specified dates which, however, the bank had power to anticipate, and all instalments have been met, including that due in 1911, leaving only the instalment of 30 per cent. due in 1917 yet to be dealt with. In the event of the bank winding up, holders of transferable deposit receipts will be entitled to prove for the unpaid balance of the principal and any unpaid interest up to the maximum rate of 4½ per cent. per annum. All new transactions have a priority over the business of the old bank.

From the Report adopted April 19, 1907.—The directors present to the shareholders the annexed audited accounts for the year ended 31st December last. The directors have transferred, out of profits, 1,000*l.* to the benevolent fund, and 250*l.* as a donation to the Valparaiso Earthquake Fund, and after making provision for bad and doubtful debts, and other contingencies, the sum at the credit of profit and loss, including 17,477*l.* 0s. 5d. brought in from the previous account, amounts to 69,533*l.* 10s. 6d. An interim dividend of 5s. per share was paid last September, and the directors now recommend that a further dividend of 7s. per share be paid, making a total distribution for the year 1906 of 10 per cent., free of income tax, leaving a balance of 21,533*l.* 10s. 6d. to be carried forward to profit and loss new account. In Cuba, this bank has assisted in the formation of a new bank under the name of "El Banco de la Habana," which commenced operations on 1st October, 1905, and from which good results are expected in course of time. The investment in banks in Mexico, Argentina, Peru, Chile and Cuba is brought into sterling account in the annexed balance sheet in the sum of 355,000*l.*, which is considerably below the present market values at curr nt exchanges. The results from Mexico, Peru, Argentina and Chile for the past year have been very satisfactory.

From the Report issued in January, 1907.—The net profit for the half year ended 31st December last, after providing for rebate on bills current, income tax, and interest accrued on deposits and interminable inscribed deposit stock, amounts to 30,420*l.* 7s. 9d., of which the sum of 14,420*l.* 7s. 9d. has been carried to contingency account, leaving 16,000*l.* divisible in accordance with the bank's scheme of arrangement in the following manner:—Private depositors' repayment fund, 12,000*l.* (making balance at credit of fund, 22,121*l.* 6s. 1d.); reserve fund, 4,000*l.*

* On May 15, 1893, the bank suspended payment, and a scheme of arrangement with the creditors was carried out without liquidation. The subscribed capital prior to reconstruction was 1,600,000*l.* in shares of 10*l.*, of which 800,000*l.*, or 5*l.* per share, was paid up; the rearrangement of 1893 provided for the calling up of 3*l.* per share (which has been paid), while a sum of 2*l.* per share was written off to provide for depreciation. Towards the close of 1896 it was found necessary to make fresh arrangements with the old creditors of the bank, and a scheme was carried through while towards the close of 1904 a further rearrangement took place in regard to the amount of 1,463,660*l.* owing to the Queensland government, for which sixteen promissory notes of 86,097*l.* 13s. 10d., and one of 86,097*l.* 14s. 8d., have been given, extending from June 30, 1904, to June 30, 1924, and maturing annually, while the bank may anticipate the maturity of the promissory notes; the first four notes were paid before maturity. Under the plan of 1897 holders of deposit receipts or deposit stock issued under the plan of 1893 received new 3½ per cent. interminable inscribed deposit stock for three-fourths of their holdings, with interest dating from March 31, 1897, and payable half-yearly on March 31 and September 30, while the principal of the stock has no fixed date of repayment, although the bank, after paying the government in full, will have the option of redeeming the stock, or any portion thereof, at the market value, but not less than its par value. The remaining one-fourth owing to general creditors of the bank is to be paid off out of profits arising from the business, which are now appropriated—75 per cent. amongst the registered holders of stock until they shall have received the sum of 5s. in the pound upon the principal moneys represented by the securities, against a portion of which the stock was issued; and the remaining 25 per cent. during a period of at least ten years from March 31, 1897, is to be carried to the reserve fund. One-fortieth of the whole of the above-mentioned one-fourth owing to the general creditors was paid September 30th, 1900, another one-fortieth on September 30th, 1902, another on September 30th, 1904, and another on March 31st, 1906. Of the total of the deposit stock 1,794,982*l.* is held in Great Britain. New current accounts or fixed deposit accounts opened since the reorganisation plan of 1893 were not affected by the plan of 1897, and have a priority over old creditors. A further sum of 3*l.* per share has been written off the share capital (making it as above), and no dividends are to be paid on the shares until one half of the government promissory notes have been paid, and no larger dividend than 3½ per cent. until the whole of the promissory notes have been redeemed.

* There are also 10,000 ordinary shares, without designation of value, and on which no calls can be made. After making provision for reserve, the privileged shares rank first for dividends of 5 per cent. per annum, and the ordinary shares then become entitled to 30 francs per share, while the balance of profits, after deduction of certain sums payable to the directors, &c., is to be distributed amongst both classes of shares so that each ordinary share shall receive double the amount payable to each privileged share. With the object of consolidating the two classes of shares, when the reserve funds reach 15,000,000 francs, the amount of the privileged shares is to be increased by 10,000,000 francs, by the creation of 20,000 new shares of 500 francs, against which the ordinary shares are to be exchanged in the proportion of two new shares for one ordinary share, which arrangement will involve the withdrawal of 10,000,000 francs from the reserve fund. In the event of liquidation the privileged shares are to be repaid in priority to the ordinary shares, and after the repayment of all the shares the balance of the assets is to be distributed in such manner that each ordinary share is to receive twice as much as each privileged share.
